

RESUME

Margaret Faye Merritt, Ph.D.
Resource Decision Support
882 Vide Dr. Fairbanks AK 99712
Email: pmerritt@ak.net

Credentials:

B.S., Biology, University of California Riverside
M.S., Biology/Ecology, Utah State University
Ph.D., Fisheries, University of Alaska Fairbanks (UAF)
Past President, American Fisheries Society, Alaska Chapter

Professional Employment:

- | | |
|--------------|---|
| 2001-present | Consultant/Facilitator with Resource Decision Support. Facilitated strategic planning, decision modeling and problem solving for state, federal and private non-profit organizations. |
| 1998-2007 | Associate professor of fisheries (adjunct/affiliate), School of Fisheries and Ocean Sciences, UAF. Design and teach courses: Introduction to Fisheries 101, Fishery Science 400, Fishery Management 401, Decision Making Techniques for Resource Management 493/693; advise students; outreach. |
| 1989-2001 | Research Supervisor, Region III, Sport Fish Division, ADFG, Fairbanks. Supervised the sport fish research program in the Arctic, Yukon, Kuskokwim and Copper River drainages. |
| 1977-88 | Fishery Biologist, Commercial Fisheries Division, ADFG. Conducted research projects across Alaska including survey and abundance of fish and shellfish, harvest estimation, stock identification, salmon early life history and migratory timing studies, and salmon hatchery site evaluation. |